Dear Parents and Carers,

The Primary supported learning corridors have been humming with enthusiastic students engaged in learning. We have been investigating outer space this term in Integrated Studies. We have been finding facts about the planets, stars, moons and what planet we live on. The SMART Spelling approach is in full swing with students learning new spelling words each week and practicing their words through multisensory and hands on activities. In maths, students have been creating patterns, learning what strategies to use when adding, subtracting and multiplying as well as how to tell the time.

In Supported 7/8 students have been working hard across all areas of the curriculum. In Maths students have been working on multiplication and division. In English they have been reading Fairy Tales and beginning to plan their own. Students have also started the SMART Spelling approach and this has shown to be a great strategy for improving spelling. Travel Training also continues to be a highlight with students enjoying a tour of the Geelong Library where they found out about the different jobs and a visit to the Melbourne Museum to see the Bugs Alive exhibition.

Attached to this week's newsletter is the Association of Children with a Disability (ACD) flyer containing important information regarding upcoming NDIS workshops to be held here at the college in August. Please make sure to mark your calendars and keep an eye out on further information regarding registration for these workshops.

Have an enjoyable weekend,

Mel Vago
Principal - Supported Learning

Changes to Attendance Procedures

From the end of Term 2 2018, all Victorian government schools are required to contact parents/carers as soon as practicable on the same day that a student has an unexplained absence. Notifying the school of your child's absence either prior to, or on the day that they will be away, helps to ensure the safety and wellbeing of students and will fulfil your legal responsibility.

Please let the college know of any upcoming or on the day absences through the Compass portal or call 9741 4202 and press 2 to leave a message regarding an absence.

If you can't be reached because the school does not have your correct contact details, the school will attempt to make contact with an emergency contact.

Career News

Job Spotlight

Construction – Part 1

Were you the kid who loved Lego and building forts in the yard? If you love building, creating and working with your hands then a career in construction might be a good fit.

Rather than pick just one career in construction, we're going to take a good look at 5 different jobs over the next 5 weeks. Whether you're building a house or an airport, just about every trade is represented on each worksite so it's smart to get an idea of how they all fit together.

Surveyor

From the Board of Surveying and Spatial Information of NSW – “A career in surveying can be very diverse and involves travelling and the use of specialised technology. Surveyors can be involved in making measurements in the outdoors or indoors processing data and creating plans and maps.”

What does that mean? In a nutshell, surveyors measure and map things then provide the information to people like engineers, architects and developers.

Video – Working in Surveying

You could work in the office or in the field, using high-tech equipment and sophisticated software to put together measurements that are needed by other design professionals.

Without their work it would be impossible for engineers and architects to accurately design and construct buildings.

Salary: from around $42k for an Assistant (Cert III level) to $64k for a Draftsperson with 5 years' experience. University qualifications mean you could earn $90k plus as a Licensed/Registered Surveyor.

Qualifications: From TAFE, start with a Cert III and work through to a Diploma to become a fully qualified draftsperson, you need a university degree to become a surveyor.

Where do I start? Check out A Life Without Limits, they have heaps of fantastic info and a list of all the courses at TAFE and Uni level in Australia.
